

MIA BERNARDINO

ASSOCIATE

BIOGRAPHY

Mia is an associate at Imaginable Futures. Her work focuses on supporting the US team in managing investments and activities for our two-generational approach for littlest learners and adult learners.

Prior to joining Imaginable Futures, Mia was a founding member of the real estate investments and development team at Emerson Collective, where her work centered around socially responsible development. In partnership with community members, she created assets that supported economic mobility, workforce development, attainable housing, cultural preservation and environmental innovation. Before transitioning to this role, Mia worked on Emerson's venture investments team, where she invested in water technologies that could be used for social change worldwide.

Before attending university, Mia was an actress and singer in Hollywood. She has been a SAG-AFTRA member since 2004, and she enjoys acting, singing, and screenwriting in her free time.

Mia received a Master of Science in civil and environmental engineering from Stanford University and a Bachelor of Science in civil engineering from Seattle University.

Mia is a proud East Bay Area kid, lifelong storyteller and culinary scavenger who loves eating dessert first.
